FRESHMAN STEAK FRY

Ending up Freshman Orientation week each year is what is doubtless the high point of the period, the steak fry. Ramrodded by the student senate, the event is "exclusively" for the frosh, yet it seems that each year there are as many, if not more, upperclassmen who wangle tickets and trot on up to Snowy Range to look over the new crop of gals. Gals, that is, like the one below, whom we caught stuffing an ice cream bar down her throat, and, as we go to press, still doesn't know that the picture was taken. Sly photographer we've got. The fry is an excellent way to end the freshman's first week at the university, good fresh, crisp mountain air, seemingly even better after the other kind which the poor frosh are buffeted with in the numerous welcoming speeches.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming each fall quarter falls into the category of the top event in that period. Getting the festivities under way is a big bonfire, followed by a torchlight parade. No comment need be made as to the enjoyment of this little escapade, just check the impression on the face of the torchlighter on the preceding page. Some fun, huh? As we see it, about the only trouble with homecoming is that it takes work, and we'll prove that statement by the pictures right here on this page. These students are working on their floats for the parade, which comes off the morning of the game. As the old cliché goes, great fun was had by all. As a matter of fact, it looked to us like the old alums had a pretty nice welcome.

ROTC

Boasting both an army and air force ROTC unit, the University requires all men students to take at least two years. This year on Memorial Day the two units staged a joint downtown street parade, the beginning of which is shown on the opposite page. Not only do the twice-a-week-soldiers hold parades for special occasions, but periodical battalion and flight reviews are held by the corps themselves. The army color guard is shown below taking part in one such review, and that University colors sure gets heavy in the Laramie wind. Even taking into consideration all the gig slips, snowy days, and the band's fast cadence, Wyoming rightly claims a couple of the best doggone units in the country.

FOOTBALL

"Rah team, Rah" and "hit 'em harder" echo over the campus fall quarter during the pigskin season, as everyone goes nuts over the UW squad. And if you won't take our word for it, just take a gander at the mob in the stands, or at the little cheerleader about to burst a gasket over a touchdown. Maybe we shouldn't say everyone is hepped up over football, for it looks to us as if the fellow in the picture below is about to lie down for a while. A couple of swell fellows are even going to help him; isn't that sweet.

Above is Phi Delta Theta's winning float from the homecoming parade. Most humorous, the judges said. In case you can't read the slogan along the side, and we bet you can't, it's "Martian over Utah." On the left here, Homecoming Queen Joyce Pennock is being crowned by last year's royalty, Suzi Rodriguez.

THE STUDENT UNION

Second home of all University students, the union is doubtless the most popular place on the campus. A handy spot for meeting your girl, playing bridge, meeting your fellow, playing pool, just loafing, or even putting out a yearbook, Larry's union is the hub of the daylight hours' social life at Wyoming. And this year the coffee isn't even so bad. Showing the spirit of the establishment pretty well, we feel, is the opposite picture. Is everybody happy? It sure looks that way.

DANCES AND ASSORTED PARTIES

At Wyoming, like every place else, people like to dance, so they do. Fall quarter is the time for informal dances, with the winter and spring affairs being a little fancier. The nice thing about views like these is that everybody is having such a good time. Take for instance the picture on this page, what a scene. Sweet music, a beautiful girl in his arms, everyone around feeling wonderful (even if he doesn't know they are there), and, well, it's just a good life.

And those on the next page. The couple at the top with their hearts and souls in their eyes; or those in the middle looking as if they are about to start a crap game; or a good cold drink to cool off with.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
OLD MAIN
LARAMIE, WYOMING

Dear Wyoming Students:

No period in the history of our nation or of the world has presented a greater challenge to young people than is presented by the mid-twentieth century in America.

Not even in the days when pioneers were pushing their way across the mountains, plains and rivers, facing countless dangers to settle this new land, were there broader frontiers awaiting exploration by men and women of courage and vision.

It is a dangerous era, this mid-twentieth century. An entire continent, we are told, could be wiped out in a single evening with the newest of the destructive weapons. But it is an exciting era, too, one that calls forth our noblest efforts.

To build a nation and a world in which the great scientific discoveries will be used for the benefit rather than the destruction of mankind is the challenge that faces the young people of this generation. Meeting this challenge requires faith and courage. But it also requires knowledge and thorough preparation.

The future, we know, belongs to those who prepare for it. The University of Wyoming offers you the opportunity to prepare-- for success in your vocation or profession, for your part in bringing about a peaceful world, for fulfillment of your destiny in this challenging era. We trust that you will take advantage of the opportunity offered you by your State University and make the most of it.

Sincerely yours,

G. D. Humphrey

Student Senate

The Student Senate of the University of Wyoming is one of the most important of the student organizations. In addition to acting as a coordinating body between the Administration and the Student Body, it brings many activities to the Campus. Headed by President Dick Brown and Vice Prexy Sue Sims, the Senate has sponsored The Freshman Steak Fry, Campus Capers, and has brought name bands and cultural groups to the campus during the past year.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The James Stewart squadron of the Arnold Air Society is an honorary society for advanced AF ROTC cadets. The members are selected for their high degree of military aptitude and academic achievement. The mission of the society is to further the purpose, traditions, and concept of the United States Air Force as a means of national defense, promote American citizenship, and further the amiable relationship among all ROTC cadets.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Honorary of future business and industrial men, Alpha Kappa Psi's purpose is to acquaint its members with business and industrial world. The organization holds bi-monthly meetings at which difficulties and problems in the field of commerce are discussed.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Standing side by side with Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi emerges as the top scholastic honorary on the campus. The distinction between the two top national honoraries is merely one of selection. Phi Beta Kappa selects its members from the liberal arts college alone, while Phi Kappa Phi may select from any of the colleges. The primary motive of this group is academic and only a few of the top seniors on the campus may qualify. In connection with Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Psi, Phi Kappa Phi holds its annual Honors Banquet where the appropriate laurels are bestowed upon its new initiates and members.

CHI GAMMA IOTA

Che Gamma Iota, XGI, is a scholastic honorary formed of veterans. Primary consideration for membership in the organization is a high scholastic average. Consisting of vets from World War II, the aim of the honorary is to form a continuing esprit de corps among members. Monthly meetings, highlighted by movies or speakers, are the main activities of the group. This year the local chapter, Delta, assisted in the construction of a children's playground.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa is an upperclassmen's honorary for those men who have a high scholastic average and high leadership qualities. Each year O.D.K. holds a Leadership camp where outstanding faculty members and administrative officials and campus leaders alike get together to discuss academic and campus problems. Also, during spring quarter a banquet is held at which an award is awarded to the outstanding faculty member which is chosen by the circle. Heading the group this year is Bill Foster, president.

SIGMA TAU

These are the mighty men in education. To belong to this honorary one must be a male instructor, rank very high scholastically, and be a prominent figure in the educational system. The improvement and betterment of the American educational system and the improvement and betterment of associated schools through the State, are the aim and pledge of this organization.

PHI EPSILON PHI

Scholars, leaders, and sponsors of sweater girls, the sophomore men's honorary chooses its members from outstanding campus leaders with top scholastic averages. Promoting good school spirit and aiding in information for frosh during Freshman Orientation week are two job specialties of the UW second-year men. The all-school Sweater Dance is the group's top function of winter quarter, and a picnic with the Spurs, Phi Ep sister organization, finishes up spring quarter. PEP works at Homecoming, during elections, and for all school functions. Two men from each frat and independent group on campus are given the honor of wearing the Phi Ep sweater. Leading the PEP's is president Joe Daly. Melvin Thompson is secretary and John Tanner is treasurer.

TAU BETA SIGMA

The feminine touch to the art and appreciation of good music and band technique is provided by Tau Beta Sigma, women's national band honorary. The girls have teas, banquets, dances and bake sales, and finish up the year with a banquet with Kappa Kappa Psi, men's band honorary. Members of TBS are the top girls in UW's Cowboy marching band. They play in the concert band and orchestra in their spare time, when they're not studying some other kind of music. Sarah Hawes is president of the bandwomen. Kay Ingraham and Nancy Kidd serve the group as vice president and secretary. Bandleader Edgar Lewis and Mrs. Charles Seltenrich are co-sponsors.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Tops of the hut, two, three, four boys, members of Scabbard and Blade, belong to the national military honorary fraternity. Highlight of the year's activities is the Military Ball, put on by the organization with the assistance of the Arnold Air Society. At regular semi-weekly meetings the group discusses questions dealing with the corps of cadets and problems the members are likely to meet when they get in the service. Besides the Military Ball, they put on other social events during the year, and often end up meetings with a short social hour. Heading the outfit this year is Marion K. Jones, with Bob Smith in the number two position. Tut Ellis is secretary and Don Cluxton treasurer. Sponsor of the group is Major Richard G. Freeman.

ALPHA DELTA THETA

The only group of medical technicians on campus, these girls of Alpha Delta Theta are affiliated with the national professional sorority of the same name. They can't seem to get enough lab work, for besides spending most of their time in zoology, chemistry or physics laboratories, they often work and study in the med lab in downtown Laramie. Aim of the group is to promote better understanding and more interest in their field, one of the tops in the medical professions. A yearly visit to the Cheyenne seminar for med techs is a highlight of their season's work. Visits from national officers, movies, discussion groups and parties keep them busy throughout the year. Head technician of the future ladies of medicine is Shirley Westerfield. She's assisted by Sonya Lindstrom, vice president, and Kaye Smith, secretary-treasurer. Francis Holbrook of the Zoology office is sponsor.

SHIRLEY WESTERFIELD
President

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Principal function of Wyoming Alpha of Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-med fraternity, is to encourage students to get information and help in their pre-medical studies. AED is the highest recognition on campus for students of pre-med; they're chosen strictly on the basis of scholastic standing in science and non-science courses, after being evaluated by three faculty members on character, leadership and aptitude. Each year the group takes an important part in Campus Health Week and the March of Dimes drive, and chooses two prominent Wyoming physicians as honorary members. Guest speakers, discussions, films, and an extensive social program including the all-important (to University students) spring picnics . . . these make up the AED's yearly schedule, when they're not "talking shop" with recognized men of the medical field. Head medicine man is president Johnny Nye. Other officers are future M.D.'s Max Reynolds, secretary, and Robert Hylton, treasurer. Advisor Floyd Clarke fills out the side-line executive position.

ALPHA ZETA

Personal achievement in the field of agriculture is recognized by Alpha Zeta, national Ag honorary fraternity at Wyoming. An active interest in the future of agriculture and grade standings in the upper two-fifths of the Ag college are required for membership. These brains in the field of Agriculture, the guys who have learned their theory on crop rotation and animal breeding to the point of attaining top scholarship, the students who are getting their basic training in one of the best Ag schools in the country, are preparing themselves to be future leaders in agricultural areas all over the country as well as in Wyoming. The bib overalls with the traditional AZ letters during the club's initiation week symbolize the high requirements, personality, leadership, ability and quarters upon quarters of nothing but hard work. These Ag whizzes meet each year at a faculty-student roundtable to discuss complex farming and ranching problems with the top men in the field. The AZ key, awarded to two freshmen each spring, is awarded with two scholarships, one to an outstanding 4-H member and the other to a promising future vocational major. Chancellor Leroy Coleman sees to it that things run smoothly. He's helped by Censor J. W. Nuckolls, Scribe Bert Bohmont, Chronicler Arlen Davison and Treasurer Leroy Johnston.

LEROY COLEMAN, Chancellor

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

UW's band men's honorary is one of the travelingest groups on campus. They take trips with the Cowboy band during football season and travel to various towns in the state and in Colorado for band clinics, concerts and various other music shows during the remainder of the year. With their sister organization, the bandwomen of Tau Beta Sigma, they stage the joint group's annual spring banquet and "ball." Wherever music of any kind is being played, on campus or off, Kappa Kappa Psi's are there in full force. Leaders of the group are Prexy Jack Russell, Secretary Vince Siren and Treasurer Mainard Wacker. Band Director Edgar Lewis serves as supervisor in most of the group's activities.

KAPPA DELTA PI

A winter Christmas party and a number of spring banquets and picnics are included in the social events of the honorary education fraternity for upperclass and graduate students on campus. The club's high requirements for membership include a 1.15 average and twelve hours in education. The students belonging are especially noted for scholarship and leadership. They're tops in their field. Monthly meetings and special discussion groups fill out their yearly schedule. Each year they give recognition to outstanding contributors to the various fields of education, including elementary, secondary and collegiate divisions. High scholarship and the promotion of top professional standards are the aims of the future instructors. Schoolmaster Jim Herd leads the select group as president. His officers include Secretary Dorothy Pearce, Historian Nancy Davison, and Councilor Clarice Whittenburg.

JIM HERD, President

PHI EPSILON KAPPA

The guys who help conduct the physical education open house each spring and supervise the 10-cent knothole sections at basketball and football games during the year are members of Phi Epsilon Kappa, honorary PE fraternity for top PE majors on campus. They sponsor speakers on phys ed and recreation, conduct tours of the campus and open houses for visiting national officers, and still dream of building a skating rink for the campus. They just might be the guys who can do it. Both instructors and top PE scholars make up the honorary. Co-sponsors are Randy Watkins and William Bearley. The brain and brawn men are headed by Richard Kinzer, president; Wendell Hedges, secretary; and Jim Herd, treasurer.

PHI DELTA CHI

Members of the national Pharmacy honorary on campus hear guest speakers from drug and pharmaceutical companies in the Rocky Mountain area during their specially scheduled meetings, and conduct debates and roundtable discussions on the side. The annual founders' day banquet at mid-year is the big social event for the pharmacists. The Royal Order of the Mortar and Pestle allows only men in its favored ranks, and is open to pharmacy and chemistry students of outstanding ability and character. Pledging is held each quarter for new students who have distinguished themselves in their academic work. Prescription prexy is Don Bristow. Poison and pill men who aid him include Vice President Bob Pearce, Secretary Robert Mahoney, and Treasurer Ed Schroeder. William Johnson sponsors the group.

DON BRISTOW, President

PHI MU ALPHA

The top men's professional music honorary on campus, Phi Mu Alpha symphonia, is made up of the best in vocal and instrumental specialists. Members of band and orchestra, as well as solo and duo artists take an active part in all study and social group activities. This year the music men sponsored ticket sales for the campus art movies, as their main money-making project. Other activities include provision of music scholarships to outstanding campus musicians and incoming frosh music majors, and ushering at all student concerts and recitals. Music maestro Lee Malody oversees all activities of the national music honorary with the help of Vice President Don Keys, Secretary Tom Hanks, and Warden Bob Marr. Edgar Lewis is the group's faculty advisor.

PHI GAMMA NU

Future shorthand-taking, typewriter-pounding, lap-sitting secretaries belong to this national commerce honorary, Phi Gamma Nu. It's a woman's world, as far as the Phi Gamma Nus are concerned, for their club is exclusive—No Men Allowed! Weekly meetings as well as a few parties are held throughout the year. One of the Commerce lassies' big functions is the fall quarter initiation banquet for new members. Professional spirit and extended interest in Commerce are encouraged by the club, but they set aside their shorthand notes and dictation pads long enough to take a big part in the annual colorful Commerce Carnival on campus each spring. Teas and other associated functions climax the social lives of the Phi Gamma Nus. President of the organization is Carolyn Williams. Thelma Beeson is vice president, Dolores Witte, treasurer and Carolyn Sintus, secretary. Commerce faculty members serve as advisors.

CAROLYN WILLIAMS, President

PAUL HOLTZ, President

PI DELTA EPSILON

These honorary upperclass journalism majors are party-giving sponsors of many top campus festivities such as the annual Gridiron banquet and Inkslingers Ball. Each year the group comes up with the campus beauty queen, and in solemn moments, a lot of good creative journalistic work is done. They're the tops of the active journalism students, the ones who put out the yearbook and each issue of the Branding Iron during the school year. Chief of the outstanding journalists is Branding Iron editor Paul Holtz. Pam Cleaver's vice president and Alice Hughes is secretary. Faculty advisors who are also active members of Pi Delt are Wallace Biggs and Warren Mack.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

The chief cooks and bottle washers on campus, these gals have the brains and homemaking talents which make up requisites for membership in the top Home Ec girls honorary. The first honorary sorority on campus, Phi Upsilon Omicron is based on upperclass scholarship, service and professional attitude. They produce added interest in domestic study by giving freshman teas and founders' day banquets, and by staging candy and bake sales and buffet suppers. Each year they print and sell the club's Phi U cookbook as a money-making project. Bases of their activities are the Home Ec quarters in the Education building and the Home management house on Ivinson, where they learn the fine points of "keeping house"—minus men! Chief chef on the Phi U executive board is President Peggy Cochran. Her assistants include Lynn Anselmi, Chaplain; Margie Raben, vice president; Jean Anderson, secretary; and Adele Adams, librarian. Verna Hitchcock is the honorary's sponsor.

PEGGY COCHRAN, President

GEORGE GALUSKA, President

"W" CLUB

Sigh guys on campus, the lettermen of football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and wrestling make up the top athletic organization on campus, the "W" Club. One good thing about being a "W" Club member is that for five years after graduation, members are given free seats to the games of the sport in which they lettered, and first choice of reserved seats at all other games. How's that for a good deal? The "W," some say, stands for Wheel and Welcome committee for Hoyt Hall, but they've sweated out long practice sessions and played rough games to earn the big yellow numerals they wear on their sweaters. The muscle-men promote higher and better standards of sportsmanship. They sponsor a quarterly dance or other social function, and their annual spring picnic makes a great climax for the social season. Head letterman is UW's outstanding 1953-54 athlete, George Galuska.

MORTAR BOARD

Election to membership in Mortar Board is the highest honor that can be given a Wyoming coed. This select group of eight gals are one who have plenty on the ball, girls who've really produced during their first three years at school. The senior women's breakfast before graduation services and recognition during Torchlight Laurels of girls with outstanding scholarship records are few of the nation senior women's honorary. The sharp black suits with the traditional Mortar Board insignia appeared this year in January. Each new group of MB members chooses its own uniform. Completing a campus problems questionnaire and working with alums for curriculum changes and corrections are two additional duties they've fulfilled this year. Officers in Mortar Board are Barb Hurst, president; Nina Huston, treasurer; Margie Raben, editor; Jeanne Huntington, secretary; Elsie Rowland, historian; and Lynn Anselmi, vice president. Sponsors are Dean Galliver, Floyd L. Clarke, Alfred T. Larson, and Ruth Campbell.

BARBARA HURST, President

BIG SISTERS

This active campus club is composed of girls who furnish emergency aid to new girls going through Freshman Orientation week. They help them get settled in their rooms, give general information about campus activities and life at UW, and assist in other ways whenever possible. Letters written during the summer to the "Little Sisters" furnish the what to bring—what to wear information to incoming coeds. The Big Sister chairman, Meellee Luton, gave further help by living in Hoyt Hall for the first few weeks of fall quarter to answer questions and help solve problems. Members of Big Sisters, chosen by the Dean of Women from letters written by interested girls, help with the administration of the freshman AWS test and aid in all-school assemblies. In addition to the opening-of-school activities, they entertain their little sisters at a party in Knigh Hall banquet room and assist at Dean Galliver's tea given each year for new women students.

SPURS

S is for the Service Spurs makes available to all campus departments and organizations. P stands for the Pep section they organize at each basketball and football game, and at all-school assemblies. U is for Unity, for this sophomore girls' honorary does all its work as one group. R's for Rep. What the frosh girls do on campus during their first year means whether they'll get to be Spurs or not. The white uniforms with the traditional Spur emblems are seen at all varsity games, at teas, banquets, dances, and club meetings. They usher at games, concerts and assemblies, and are leaders in election campaigns and fund-making drives like the March of Dimes and Community Chest. They take a big part in Freshman Orientation week at the beginning of each school year by operating the general information booth on the west side of Prexy's Pasture. Dean E. Luella Galliver, Spur sponsor, was one of the first Spurs on this campus, way back when. Leaders in this group of leaders are President Louise Wesswick, Vice President Mary Hertzler, Secretary Janice Larsen, and Treasurer Margie Okano. Ann McGowen, 1953-54 Spur president, serves as advisor.

IRON SKULL

A fireball organization of service to the University and promotion of school spirit, Iron Skull includes two outstanding juniors from each organization, club, fraternity and sorority on campus. The group's outstanding event of the school year is the annual fall quarter Homecoming Sing and Homecoming Skid. Sororities, fraternities and independent organizations vie each year for the coveted Iron Skull trophies, after weeks of September song practices. Besides the big part it plays in the Homecoming festivities, the all-around scholars and leaders sponsor welfare drives and hold dances and parties each quarter. Fred Reckling is president of the third-year "brains" this year. Ben Chesebro as vice president, Anne McGowen as secretary, and Jack Floerke as treasurer, fill the other top Iron Skull offices.

Coffee hours Sunday afternoon, informal discussion groups, and sponsoring mission groups keep the Episcopalian students busy in their club room at the Canterbury house on Ninth Street. The club room, which is open at all times for use by the members of the organization, is the scene of every-Sunday-night meetings, work services, and many fellowship-get-togethers. Members of Canterbury take an active part in all work at Saint Matthew's Cathedral. Early morning communion services and breakfasts before classes on Wednesdays help fill up the group's week-day activities. Projects, parties and special suppers are scheduled during the year. Rev. J. Wilson Hunter, Bishop of Wyoming, is the club pastor. He's assisted by Rev. John Hildebrand, student minister. Officers of the Episcopalians are President Jack Frost; Vice President Sally Jackson; Secretary Marian Willett; and Treasurer Sally Kingham.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Catholic student religious organization's activities are based on three principles: religion, education and social life. The Newmaners' activities include study groups, films, panel discussions, dancing, open houses during the quarters, breakfasts and communions, and publishing their own paper, the Laramie Newmanner. Yearly conventions at one of the University campuses in the Rocky Mountain region climax the Catholic students' program. The UW Newman club is a branch of a nation-wide chain of university students' Catholic organizations. Officers are George Bull, president; Margaret Rutherford, historian; John Squeri, treasurer; Priscilla Lynch, secretary; Marjie Peterson, corresponding secretary; and Susan Twitchell, social chairman.

GEORGE BULL, President

ROGER WILLIAMS CLUB

Holiday parties, banquets and splash parties, as well as the more serious devotionals and discussions are part of Roger Williams, the Baptist student's group. The student center on Grand, just two blocks from the campus, is a place for both study and play all during the week. Sundays see the group meet before church services and for evening supper and fellowship meetings. Rev. Estel Hines is Baptist student pastor and group leader. Club leaders are Hugh Barr, president; Sonya Moore, vice president; Gene Smith, secretary; Mary Ann Berry, treasurer; and Clarence Dexter and Janet Bradley, SCRO representatives.

OUTING CLUB

Weekend mountain climbs, ski trips, horseback riding, swimming and picnics make the Outing Club the top non-varsity athletic group on campus. The club's Winter Carnival, with its election of Sno Queen and her attendant, the Saturday night Sno Ball, snow sculpturing contests, and an all-day ski contest, is the biggest all-campus social event of winter quarter. The three days of nothing but fun (with a little extra work on the side) makes the skiers and mountaineers the busiest group on campus during the final week in January. This year's fall quarter, the club staged a city-wide Ski Rally in the Education auditorium to push plans for a University ski ground at Ryan Park, 50 miles up the Snowy Range road from the old Libby Creek area. Club banquets, steak fries, square dances, skating and hiking expeditions and trips to the University Recreation camp keep each member busy throughout the year. Skier Shirley Bristow and mountaineer Vern Anderson are leaders of the organization.

IAS

Chief goal of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, one of the newest organizations of the Engineering college, is to acquaint the students with the aircraft industries. Anything from wing styles to better passenger seating is their specialty. Each year the group sends two representatives to the annual student paper competitions in Dallas, Texas. Meetings usually include movies obtained from the aircraft industry. Honorary chairman of the future air engineers is Alfred B. Stafford. Top flight man is Chairman L. D. McCoy. Bob Burns is vice-chairman and Richard Colleoni is secretary-treasurer.

AIEE-IRE

Branches of their professional societies, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers are concerned with aiding students in their work, and in acquainting the group with problems arising in the field of radio and electrical engineering. Inspection trips and invitational speakers are part of the year's program for the group. The joint student organization, with specialized but related interests, keeps informed on all the latest technological advancements in their respective fields. Members help stage the annual Engineer's Ball and spring open houses. Spring field trips, district conventions and picnics add variety to their many functions.

ROY HENDERSON, President

ENGINEERING COUNCIL

Two representatives of each of the engineering groups make up the College of Engineering's highest governing body, the Engineering Council. A queen is chosen through the council's sponsorship each fall to reign over the festive formal Engineer's Ball. Engineering tricks and trade secrets are shown each spring through efforts of the council at the annual Engineer's open house. Don Ludwig is top man on the council, and Robert Peterson serves as secretary-treasurer. Dean H. T. Bryant advises and directs during the school year.

ASME

A branch of the national group, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers holds meetings and movies to acquaint its members with new processes and ideas in the mechanical engineering field. Twice monthly, they discuss new ideas and present problems, as engineering students, and as future engineers. Two ASME representatives sit in on Engineering Council meetings, helping to govern the engineering activities which include the all-important fall Engineer's Ball. Faculty advisor is Harold Fry, mechanical engineering specialist. Officers include Mansel Lane, L. D. McCoy, and Charles Bergman.

MANSEL W. LANE, Chairman

GERALD CLAWSON, President

ASCE

These fellows and gal, masters of the art of slipstick, transit, rod, and chain, belong to the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The primary aims of the group are to acquaint the students with the field of Civil Engineering, and to prepare them for membership in the parent organization. Open to all upperclass civil engineering students, the group holds an annual smoker in the fall and a picnic in the spring. Lectures by outstanding engineers, movies, and guest speakers highlight their bi-monthly meetings. Throughout the year the group takes field trips to outstanding engineering works in the area. Helping sponsor the Engineer's Ball in the fall, they also assist in the engineers' open house in the spring quarter. Officers of this group which each year survey Prexy's Pasture are Gerald Clawson, president; Robert Madsen, vice president; James Goodman, secretary; and Jack Marshall, treasurer.

AWS

Rules, rules, and more rules guide and aid the women students during their years at the University. Playing a leading role on campus as a self-governing organization, cultivating cultural interest and emphasizing scholastic attainment, the Associated Women Students board is made up of representatives of each of the women's organizations on campus, including dorms and sorority houses. Functions of the group include teas, dances, parties, elections and rule revisions. The bible of the organization is the AWS handbook, a legal guide for house-mother and coed . . . It keeps girls informed on what to do, how to do it, what not to do, and how not to do it. Chief of the lady lawmakers is Pat Bennett. She's assisted by Vice President Margie Raben, Secretary Linda Dudenhaver, Treasurer Pam Cleaver, and Delegates-at-Large Barbara Hurst and Laura Larson.

PAT BENNETT, President

BOB PEARCE, President

APhA

The Wyoming College of Pharmacy's junior branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association is concerned specifically with prescriptions, powders, capsules and pills. It's the only group on campus that can say "take a powder" and get away with it. This year's Junior A.Ph.A. has the largest membership since the group began. Banquets during winter quarter, spring picnics, and guest speakers (usually druggists of Laramie or drug salesmen) spark up their meetings and social functions. Each year some members of the group travel to Chicago to visit leading pharmaceutical houses. The group's pet problem is learning to mix prescriptions from doctors' unreadable orders. Head pill-pusher is Prexy Bob Pearce. He's helped by Vice President Ruth Deland, Secretary Mieco Nakamura, and Treasurer Ed Schroeder. Dean O'Day and other members of the pharmacy faculty serve as advisors.

HOME EC CLUB

Gals who believe in getting practice along with theory are these potential homemakers on campus, for they master everything from balancing diets to mending socks. Community service, sponsoring of fellowships, entertaining at University club meetings, and staging bazaars as money-making projects are some of their activities. The club, open to all Home Ec majors, sends delegates each year to the national Home Economics convention, holds bake sales and picnics, gives a social honoring graduating seniors from Laramie and University high schools, and honors graduating Home Ec majors at a banquet each spring. President of the future homemakers is Lucy Ito. Other officers include Margie Raben, vice president; Susan Twitchell, secretary; and Louise Wesswick, treasurer. Joyce Reed serves as the club's faculty advisor.

LUCY ITO, President

4-H

Through the International Farm Youth exchange program of which Collegiate 4-H is a member, an opportunity to travel to almost any part of the world is afforded. Members of the club are students who were formerly engaged in 4-H work. They meet twice a month, help promote the state 4-H program, and assist with the Little International which is held every fall quarter. President this year is Carl Grable.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Weekly Sunday Supper meetings, frequent exchange dinners with other religious organizations, and twice yearly retreats with the L.S.A. chapters from Denver, Greeley, and Fort Collins highlight the annual activities of this organization. Besides these things, the club has prepared an Easter breakfast for their entire congregation, and conducted the service on Youth Sunday. From their club rooms in the basement of the Lutheran church, they have conducted skating parties along with assorted other social events.

KAREN BENSON

INDEPENDENT STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Topping an active year for the I.S.A. was their sponsorship of the Wyoming Days Tour. During the year they sponsored several all-student dances and traveled in a group to various athletic events. The Independent Students Association is made up of men and women students without any social fraternal affiliation on the campus.

WYOMING HALL

Wyo hall, home of all freshman male students, is the newest of the campus dorms. The hall organization, headed by Merrill Scott, holds dances for the members, as well as attending to dorm business. Starting the year off with a bang was the float built for the Homecoming parade. Since then, Wyo Hall has been active in campus affairs and all University activities.

COSMOPOLITAN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Primarily an organization for the foreign students at the University, Cosmopolitan International Relations Club is a new group on campus this year. Periodical meetings offer a chance for students to get together and discuss mutual problems and in general, just have a good time. Heading the club this year was Naim Turk and Lillian G. Portenier was the faculty advisor.

NAIM TURK

SCRO

One of the biggest weeks on campus is the Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Student Council of Religious Organizations. Ministers of all denominations are invited to speak at the several houses and dorms, and special assemblies are held during this time. Another of S.C.R.O.'s traditions is the annual auction where everything is sold from ski-tows to used coke bottles. All proceeds from this auction go to the World Student Service Fund. An annual dance and a quarterly banquet are still further activities of this group. President of the S.C.R.O. is Karen Benson.

W A A

Sports minded coeds spent much leisure time participating in the intramural bowling, basketball, and table tennis tourneys during the year. Emblems, letters and sweaters were won by those girls who acquired a sufficient number of points by taking part in the various tournaments. Under the able leadership of Nina Huston, president, and Miss Thouin, faculty advisor, W.A.A. achieved new heights in membership and campus recognition this year.

FOURTH ESTATE

Promoting the aims and interests of journalism is the purpose of Fourth Estate. Membership is open to all journalism majors. Each year the typewriter pounders take to the hills in spring quarter for a rip-roaring party done in a style as only journalists know—and this year was a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Heading Fourth Estate this year was Directory Editor, Alice Kubo.

POTTER LAW CLUB

Murder in the Union and Robbery in Knight Hall were the highlights of Potter Law's series of moot court trials held this year. Members are made up of full-time law students and faculty members. Gay formal dances and parties were held during the fall and spring quarters. Members also took time out for a little fun and old-fashioned rivalry when they conducted the Homecoming queen finalists on a trip around the state.

WESTMINSTER CLUB

With the completion of the new Laramie Presbyterian church, this year the members of the Westminster Club found ample use for their new student lounge. The lounge offers a place for Presbyterian students to study, with the aid of their new library, hold meetings, or just get together for a gab session. This year's president was Janet Maebius.

HOYT HALL

The green-pea dorm is a regular hive of activity as you might have found out if you have tried to call Hoyt on any evening. Busy signals is about all you can get. Besides being busy on this angle, the girls also held a winter quarter dance, sponsored a Homecoming queen attendant, and weekly teas in the lounge which were a welcome treat to the frosh trudging home after a full day of classes. Officers of Hoyt are Ellen Spann, president; Shelly Coleman, vice president; Linda Dudenha-ver, secretary-treasurer; and Sally Kirschten, social chairman.

KNIGHT HALL

The gals at Knight Hall really had something to crow about this year when their candidate, Joyce Pennock, was selected U.W. Homecoming Queen. Under the direction of President Mieco Nakamura, Knight sponsors a dance each quarter, including a spring dinner-dance. Each Tuesday night, the girls dress for dinner, after which they have some form of entertainment.

A good Place
to be stationed

Army and Air Force ROTC units on the campus have co-operated in a military wives' Training program, to prepare girls to take on the responsibilities of service wives. The program, a new innovation, received national recognition in Time magazine. This program is hoped to become a model for many units.

ARMY ROTC

In the 1800's Congress passed the Land Grant College law which eventually became the basis of the Army reserve. Graduates from all over the nation have become qualified and respected military leaders through the Army ROTC program. Members, past and present, of the University of Wyoming's Reserve Training Corps are no exception. Tactics, staff functioning, Weapons, and leadership are some of the varied and necessary subjects that an ROTC cadet studies whether he completes only the required two years basic or is selected to pursue the full four year course which leads to a commission as a second lieutenant. All cadets receive practical training which provides a valuable background for later life whether in the Army or as a leader in a civilian community.

AIR FORCE ROTC

An Air Force ROTC Unit was established on the University of Wyoming campus in August, 1942. The first graduates of the program received their commissions as Second Lieutenants last June and are now well on their way to qualifying for the silver wings of an Air Force pilot. This year's graduating class has had two years of the new Air Force ROTC curriculum which was introduced in the fall of 1953. This curriculum is divided into two distinct phases, "Air Age Citizenship Training," the basic Air Force ROTC course, and "Air Force Officer Development," advanced Air Force ROTC program. The basic course, taken by Air Science I and II cadets, is designed to better prepare the college student to be a citizen in a world dominated by intercontinental bombers and atomic and hydrogen bombs. The advanced course, taken by a selected group of Air Science III and IV students, is designed to give the young Air Force officer a broad background in essential leadership ability and an increased awareness of the problems facing him as an Air Force officer and citizen of our nation.

WYO

Now that you've gotten this far in the book, there's not too much we can say about the WYO staff. That is, except one thing: the whole staff—we hope you like it. The staff has worked hard, on pictures, on copy, and on layout. For your enjoyment, we've added this year for the first time, a full color, full cover picture. The first section has attempted to portray student life, not that the rest has not. The only thanks any of the staff asks, is that the readers like the book.

BRANDING IRON

The Branding Iron, student newspaper of the University, more commonly referred to as the B.I., comes out each Friday morning, and woe be to the poor student who pauses before the piles of the paper, for he may well be trampled to death. Next door neighbors to the WYO in "Publications Row," union basement, the B.I. office and staff are humming every Tuesday and Wednesday night, getting the paper to bed on Thursday.

Editor Holtz gives ace columnist Dick Cook some pointers on his next week's masterpiece.

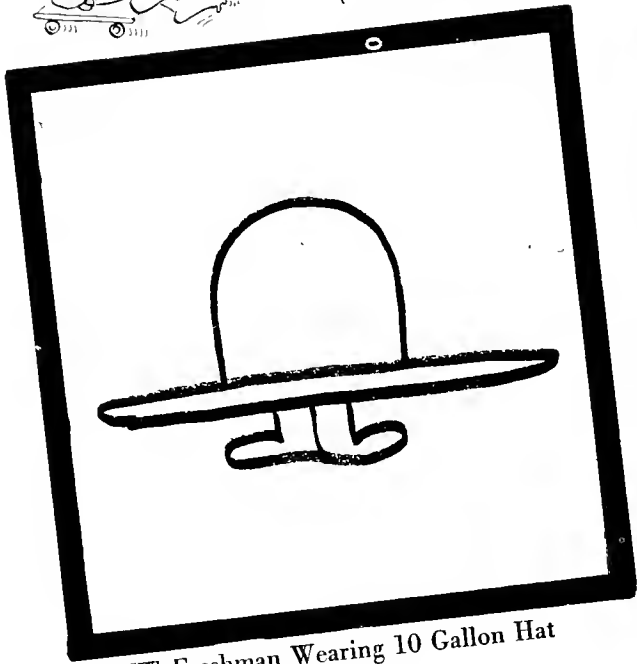

Looks like Holtz has the best of this deal. RHIP, after all.

YAHOO magazine is published three times each school year by the students of the University of Wyoming. Subscription rates are 35c per issue, $1.00 per year. The office is located in room 134, Wyoming Union.

YAHOO

Humor magazine on the campus, Yahoo, upholds the fine tradition of all the gag mags of the past. Edited by Charles Coleman, whose admitted aim is to keep students in stitches, the Yahoo is eagerly awaited quarterly by students, visitors, and some faculty, although they won't admit it. The editorial staff is made up of some very odd jobs, as you can see on the left. The best comment on the magazine?—Yahooooooooo.

Coleman looks pained, but he never had it so good. Other male members look on in envy.

The gals who wear the lyre of angels (?) have proved they can be devilish at times, for their claim to fame on the Wyo campus has come from being just plain fun and great to get along with. When it comes to socializing or taking part in any kind of academic or extracurricular activity, they're anything but slow. Annual pledge costume dances and early spring formal dinner-dances are only two of their many special events. And many an unplanned sing or gab session has taken place round the Alpha Chi fish pond during the year.

The dagger and its trio of triangles have come in mighty handy at times for the gals at Delta Delta Delta. They're active on campus and off, staging partypartyparties from fall to spring. They highlight their winter quarter activities with a special costume dance and use their annual Pearl dinner dance as a climax for the year's activities. Talent and brains help make the Deltas leaders on campus, for they usually come up with several specialties during the year. For instance, this year's Tri-Delt Quintet was spotlighted at programs, parties, dances and get-togethers of all kinds. Some say the three D's stand for definitely dynamic dames, while others contend they are three-dimensional: Do, Don't, and I Dare You.

It's rumored the KDs watch for sweater queen material during rush week, and if they do, their mad method has paid off, for they've won the Phi Ep sweater queenship for three years straight . . . first Anne Traill, then JoAnn Haycraft, and, this year, Bev Busteed. The Kappa Deltas, with their many other talents, have produced campus leaders and fun parties that would fill a list a mile long. ### Wyoming Students . . . All Wet.

At the annual tug-of-war, held at the oft empty peanut pond, university students get into condition for swimming 307 z. A contest between the frosh and sophomores, the sophomore side usually includes many juniors, seniors, and members of the administrative bureaucracy as second year students. It always makes quite a social splash.

ATO, which, incidentally, was the first national fraternity on the campus, had a fine year during '54-55, even having one of their alums elected Governor. The WYO has been trying to find out for years how the hairy chested men keep them in condition, curlers or permanents, but we're still in a mist along that line. The K Sigs have the saddest sob story of all . . . there just might not be any more jumping from the Kappa Sigma balcony to the bales of hay waiting below next year, but their Lower Slobbovian Stomp will live on, and on, and on, in the annals of Wyo history. The ingenious social-minded men manage to come up with something new and novel in the way of socializing nearly every week. Roman banquets, cocktails at the city dump, a Halloween party in December and a Christmas party in October are only a few. The KS crew, from their strategic position 'cross from sorority row, take an active part in athletics, scholarship, and University life throughout the year.

The "castle painted blue and white," where tremendously healthy ROARRRRRs can be heard any time of the day or night, houses 80 or 90 of the most active and most fun men on the campus, the Phi Delt. They were on the ball throughout the year, starting with copping top honors at the Homecoming Sing and putting their talents with aluminum foil to good use on a winning float. Their beautiful torchlight serenades are special thrills for the gals who somehow manage to steal the hard-to-get, hard-to-keep Phi Delt shield. In the way of extracurricular activities, the Phis traveled to Fort Collins and points south, leaving a big burned "W" as their trademark.

Phi Kappa, national fraternity for Catholic men, started a chapter on the Wyoming campus in 1949. Teachings of the group are those of the church, and as such, are centuries old, dating from the days of the Roman Empire. Philosophy and teachings of the church fathers are included in the fraternity background. Carrying on their social life with gusto, the group sponsors picnics, outings, and quarterly dances.

By the time the Scottish kilts go out for the Sig Alphas in the fall they're trying something else in the way of latest styles, for 'long about January they start sproutin' what they say are the biggest, the bestest, and the bushiest beards in Wyoming. The "kilts," usually borrowed from sorority gals, are the effective costumes of the famed SAE Kilty band, a traditional and important part of every Homecoming parade. The beards are cultivated months in advance for the Bushman's Hop, top campus brawl. The Sigs turned into 70 morticians for their newest party at Halloween, when they turned the yard of their big white house on Tenth street into a comic graveyard. A pledge dance, the annual Spring formal, and a picnic where nearly everybody ends up in the drink help make sure there's never a dull moment.

Ground breaking ceremonies fall quarter headed the Snakes, who wear the white star, in the right direction, straight to second place on fraternity row. During the year, big dances, bigger parties and the biggest SN party of all . . . the SN Chanticleer head campus social affairs. The Chanticleer begins anywhere after 3 or 4 a.m. and ends no-one-knows and no-one-cares-when. Nobody's been able to figure out why the Snakes serve orange juice for breakfast, after serving their specialty, a bathtub concoction, at pre-dawn cocktails. Maybe they think tomato juice and black coffee would ruin the whole effect.

Wyoming's Cowboys, looking very good for the most of the season, were edged out at the wire by Denver University. D.U., by virtue of one more conference game than Wyoming, won the Skyline Championship. The Pokes were a very close second. Wyoming played six conference games, winning five and losing only to Utah at Homecoming. Denver had seven, winning six and losing only to Wyoming on Joe Mastrogiovanni's last second field goal. George Galuska was the work-horse of the team, running out of the fullback spot. Among the other stars were John Watts, Joe Mastrogiovanni, Jimmy Crawford, Bugs Carter, Ray Lutterman, Leo McClellan, and Jerry Jester.

Varsity Wrestlers, under Coach Ev Lantz, were looking forward to one of their brightest seasons. While returning lettermen were the work-horses of the squad, Sophomores and transfer students were looking good. Outstanding among the transfer students was Shorty Fetter of Colorado. Wyoming's Varsity Cagers suffered their first loss at the hands of Montana early in the season. This, coupled with two defeats from Utah and one from B.Y.U. knocked the Pokes out of first place and into a scramble for the second place slot.

Joe Capua was chosen on the UP All-Conference first team and Harry Jorgensen made the second team. Harry was also chosen on the Collier's All-Conference first team and Joe and Big Ed Huse made the second team.

Sophomores Dave Bradley and Gordon Holden shaped up by the middle of the season and gave the Cowboys' mid-season squad a "new look."

Coach Shelton states that next year's team will be even better with only Senior Pete Fowler absent from the starting five. This—plus the excellent prospects from the Yearlings—will make Wyoming the team to beat next year.

John Townsend's mermen, led by All-American John Radford, turned in some fine individual performances to finish third in the Eastern division. Going into the Skyline Championships, Cowboy power was centered in Radford, back-stroker, Dick Miller, and free-styler Leon Tuttle. Depth is added to the team by several outstanding freshman and sophomore swimmers, indicating that Wyoming can look forward to increasingly fine teams in the next few years.

Faced with the loss of All-American Paul Carlin and pole-vaulter Anson Bell, Coach Wiles Hallock depended on Lou Madrid, conference mile champ, and Jim Elder, eastern division two-mile title holder, to pace the '55 track squad. Outstanding performance was also expected from broad jumper John Rushing, distance men Larry Slotta and Jordan Smith, sprinter John Watts, weight man Ken Moore, and two-miler Don Stine.

SKIING

Wyoming Skiers fared well against some of the roughest competition in the country. They opened the season by taking third at the Aspen Intercollegiate Christmas meet. They took a third at the Utah meet next, then dropped to sixth at the Second Annual Blue River Relays at Dillon, Colorado. They bounced back and grabbed second at the 11th Annual 4-way Intercollegiate championships. Next they took a third at the Western State College winter carnival at Gunnison, Colorado. They got third also at the Nevada Winter Carnival at Reno and ended the regular season with a fifth place win at the Terry Peak Regional Championships in South Dakota.

The Rocky Mountain region is the roughest competition in the country, as far as skiing is concerned and Wyoming has proved itself against the best there is. Outstanding team members are Bob Chambers, Ted Armstrong and Gary Knowles.

Most of this year's team will return next year and prospects are good for at least as good a team if not better.

Dear Tom:

I thought that doing a weekly live television show was tough but, believe me, selecting a winner for your "Inkslingers Queen" contest was much tougher.

You mailed me photos of so many beautiful contestants that I was tempted to name each one a queen. However, I was placed on the spot and had to make a choice. So here they are:

To the queen, my sincerest congratulations and to all other beautiful contestants, my warmest greetings.

I enjoyed this experience and thank you for giving me this honor.

SWAN SONG

Once again a WYO goes to press, and another staff can breathe a sigh of relief. We've given the 1955 edition birth, nurtured it with loving hands, and now send our protege to Dallas where, we beg, it will be handled with care, and will develop into the fine, strong yearbook we have envisioned.

In this issue we have endeavored to give you students something a little different, and we hope you'll feel as we do that the innovations make a better book. Our advertising scattered throughout the volume, thus eliminating the advertising section, is probably the greatest departure from the past. We hope that you will like this idea as well as we do. As you have probably noticed, for the Swan Song is always the last thing read, if at all, we don't have a theme in the book. The only thing resembling a theme is the fact that we have tried to tell the story of student life at Wyoming. We hope that we have told this story well. For the first time, we have been able to procure a full color, full cover photograph. We imagine that you can spend quite a few cold winter evenings trying to find yourself in the crowd.

Now to those who worked so hard to produce the WYO, all we can say is one word—Thanks. To Dex Glover, business manager, who had the hard job of making money so we could spend it; to Claude Mapes, assistant editor, who has done so much, and taken such a load off our shoulders; to photographer Randy Wagner, for all those fine pictures which do so much to make a book; we wish to express our appreciation. And to all the section editors, without whose hard work the annual could never have been completed.

So here it is, and we hope you like it.

Thomas W. Love
